
LEGEND

1. Trailhead/Parking
2. Hites Cove
3. Ferguson Rock Slide

Hite's Cove Trail/Saturday, 5/2/26

THE TRAIL

A narrow "there-and-back" trail with awesome views of the wild and scenic South Fork River. The trail runs parallel to the river through chapparal and oak/pine woodland plant communities, occasionally touching down to the river's edge. Trail grade is low/moderate, but some short steep rocky trail segments exist.

TRAIL STEWARDSHIP: WHAT TO EXPECT ON SATURDAY, 5-2-26

Arrive at the parking area by 10AM with your personal day pack, which should include water, snacks, lunch, personal items and clothing for the day. Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and tools will be issued to volunteers. Then, we will go to the trailhead located behind the lodge for introductions and a safety talk. From there we will hike to the work site(s). Work assignments will be based on each volunteer's interests, skills and desire to learn. On this trip, the following work is possible: reconstructing a trail segment; removing logs (chainsaw); brushing; and removing invasive plants from the trail. Much of this work is located within 3 miles from the trailhead. We will return back to the trailhead by 3pm; refreshments will be offered.

GETTING THERE

Driving Directions: From the Mariposa Visitor Center (Intersection of Hwy 140 & Hwy 49N), travel 21 miles on Hwy 140 east to Redbud Lodge (9484 CA-140, El Portal), not to be confused with Redbud Day Use area.

Parking: Park with the direction of traffic, opposite the highway from Redbud Lodge, alongside the river's edge.

Trailhead Facilities: There are no restrooms or food storage lockers. The trailhead begins to the left of lodge; follow the signs to the trail.